Dr. Ray S. Cline
Deputy Director (Intelligence)
CIA

Dear Dr. Cline

The Spring General Board Meeting of the USAF Scientific Advisory Board was one of our most interesting and profitable. As you are well aware, planning a meeting of this type requires the combined efforts of a large number of people, while the only true measure of its success comes from an assessment of what the speakers have said and the reaction of the audience.

Your briefing on "More Nations with Nuclear Power" was very informative and in addition it furnished valuable background material for the discussion groups which considered various aspects of the theme topic in more detail the second day of the meeting.

Many of our members and distinguished guests have commented to me on the excellence of your presentation. I consider it a pleasant duty indeed to thank you for your outstanding contribution to the success of the program. I know that Mr. Zuckert, General LeMay and the entire Board join me in extending their expression of appreciation.

Sincerely
